LIVING HERITAGE TRUST

Green Policy

At the Buccleuch Living Heritage Trust (BHT), we are committed to working in a sustainable way. Formed in 1984, the Trust administers the educational and public access to Bowhill House and Country Estate. It aims to build bridges in the understanding between town and country and represents a continuity of the Buccleuch commitment to conserve the British countryside. The Trust seeks to further this aim by promoting greater awareness of the countryside's vital place in the Nation's heritage and provide access and information for a public that is rightly becoming ever more aware of Environmental issues.

In particular, we are committed to:

- Complying with and where possible exceeding the requirements of environmental legislation and approved codes of practice.
- Supporting local businesses and the local community.
- Stocking sustainable, local and fairtrade goods.
- Reducing our waste, use of energy, water and other resources.
- Raising awareness of 'green' issues with both our employees and visitors.
- Continuing the study of wildlife and conservation.
